Brown Hosts Fifth Annual Free Ice Cream Social

(LANSING) – To thank residents in southern Michigan for their support during the past four and a half years, Sen. Cameron S. Brown is hosting his fifth annual old-fashioned ice cream social at his family’s farmhouse in Fawn River Township.

The free event takes place Sunday, July 20 from 3 to 6 p.m.

Brown’s family farmhouse is located at 29057 E. Lafayette Road, just east of Sturgis and north of U.S. 12, on the southeast corner of E. Lafayette and Big Hill roads.

“I’ve gone from representing 90,000 to 250,000 residents, and it’s been a good challenge and great opportunity to meet so many wonderful people,” said Brown, R-Fawn River Township.

“I look forward to the opportunity to share in a scoop of ice cream on a Sunday afternoon.”

Brown was elected to his first term as state senator in November of 2002 and previously served in the Michigan House from 1998 to 2002.
